DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 1 recites the limitation in line 4 "so as not to obscure the visibility of the element". Examiner is unsure what this recitation adds to the claim, therefore making the claim language in need of clarification. Correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent NO.6,075,178 to La Wilhelm.

As best understood as to claim 1, La Wilhelm discloses a disposable absorbent article having an area which is visible when the article is worn (Abstract) a color gradation in said area providing a coloration which varies in intensity over the area from a higher intensity of color to a lower intensity of color (col. 18 lines 47-52), and a visible element in said area at a location where the coloration is of lower intensity or absent (Abstract lines 19-31).

As to claims 2, 3, 12, and 13, La Wilhelm discloses a disposable article wherein the visible element is a graphic or a registration mark (col. 17 lines 14-29 disclosing the indication section may be a pattern or an embossment); wherein said article is a pant having a crotch section, and wherein the registration mark is located on the crotch region (col. 4 lines 37-51). As to the language in claim 12 "for use in positioning said graphic on the article" it has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

As to claim 4, La Wilhelm discloses a disposable article wherein the visible element is a wetness indicator. (col. 18 lines 60-67).

As to claims 6 and 16, La Wilhelm discloses a disposable article wherein the wetness indicator comprises an active graphic. (La Wilhelm discloses an active graphic in that the graphic becomes "active" when color changes resulting in wetness or dryness of the indicator associated therewith col. 15 lines 40-55).

As to claim 7, La Wilhelm discloses a disposable article wherein the article is a pant having a front region, a back region, and a crotch region (Figure 1) said wetness indicator being on a portion of the crotch portion which is substantially free of color (col. 19 lines 1-4; col. 18 lines 47-52).

As to claims 8 and 9, La Wilhelm discloses a disposable article wherein the coloration changes from higher intensity to lower intensity generally in the direction of the crotch region; wherein the coloration changes from higher intensity to lower intensity generally in the direction of one or more sides of the pant. (col. 19 lines 1-3; col. 18 lines 47-52).

As to claims 10 and 11, La Wilhelm discloses a disposable article wherein the color gradation involves only one color; wherein the color gradation involves a combination of different colors. (col. 18 lines 47-59).

As to claim 14, La Wilhelm discloses a disposable article comprising a training pant (col. 3 lines 57 disclosing training pants) having an outer cover with an interior surface and an opposite exterior surface, and an absorbent material disposed on the interior surface, said pant further having front, back regions which define a waist region, and crotch region extending between the front and back region, and crotch regions, said visible element comprising an active graphic on said crotch for indicating the wetness of the section. (Abstract; Figure 1; La Wilhelm discloses an active graphic in that the graphic becomes "active" when color changes resulting from wetness or dryness of the indicator associated therewith col. 15 lines 40-55).

As to claim 15, La Wilhelm discloses a disposable absorbent pant comprising an outer cover with an interior surface and an opposite exterior surface, an absorbent material disposed on the interior surface of the cover, said pant further having front and back regions which define a waist region, a crotch region extending between the front and back regions, a color gradation on an area of the article which is visible when the article is worn, said color gradation providing a coloration which varies from a higher intensity of color in the vicinity of the waist region to a lower intensity of color toward the crotch region, and a wetness indicator in said crotch region at a location where the coloration is of lower intensity or absent so as not to obscure an indication of wetness by the wetness indicator.(Abstract; Figure 1; col. 19 lines 1-3; col. 18 lines 47-52;

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. US Patent No. 4,328,181 and 4,931,051 are disclosed as providing wetness indication resulting in color change.
